Introduction

Grenoble and the Université Grenoble Alpes

Whether you like to ski, bike, hike, snowshoe or just sit and observe the amazing landscape and beautiful skyline, Grenoble is the place for you. Ski capital and host of the 1968 Winter Olympics, the Grenoble metropolitan area and the UGA campus host facilities for virtually every sport; including facilities for student athletes competing at world-class levels.

The first university of Grenoble was founded in 1339. Grenoble IAE is part of the Université Grenoble Alpes (UGA) founded on January 1, 2016. Result of the merger of 3 universities:
- Pierre Mendès-France – Humanities and Social Sciences
- Stendhal – Literature and Languages
- Joseph Fourier – Sciences

45,000 students
24 departments and schools, 80 labs

As the Graduate School of Management at the Université Grenoble Alpes (UGA), Grenoble IAE's mission is to train and develop both specialized managers and dual-competence managers. To fulfill its mission, IAE draws from hands-on practical expertise and world-class management researchers.

Grenoble IAE School of Management benefits from a strategic economic position in Grenoble, widely recognized as one of the five most innovative cities in the world, and booming in the domains of physics, nuclear and material sciences, electronics, computer sciences, biology, and micro-nanotechnologies. Grenoble hosts 220 well-known laboratories and 21,000 jobs in research.

A word from the Dean

"The world is a book, and those who do not travel read only a page." The famous quotation of Saint Augustine is as old as the 5th century... But is very accurate for our world and our age. You use different ways of learning and read different books during your studies: traveling is another book, and represents a very precious way of learning. That’s why international mobility is so welcomes both by students and companies; it is a powerful experience that develops your knowledge, your skills and your behavior in various contexts.

That’s why Grenoble IAE Graduate School of Management has been investing in international development and student mobility since many years. It is a honor for us to welcome foreign students and international visiting professors, and it will be our challenge to connect your talents to those of our faculty and ecosystem. May the force of intercultural connections be with you!

As part of the bill related to career guidance and students success (called ‘Plan étudiants’), many different measures are about to be taken in order to improve students living conditions, including measures regarding Student social security. The legislation was passed on March 8th, 2018. But the detailed rules for the implementation of the legislation haven’t been laid down yet. Therefore, the information below is likely to change. We will update you with more precise information as soon as we can. For more information, please do not hesitate to contact ISSO’s Administrative assistance department.

What should be changing?

If you are a European citizen or from Quebec: nothing should change, you should still be able to use your European Health Insurance Card or RAMQ form.

If you are an overseas student arriving from September 2018: you will have to register on the ‘Assurance Maladie’ (French health insurance) website for international students (etudiant-étranger.ameli.fr) to ensure your healthcare costs are covered by the general health insurance system (CPAM). Registration is free and you will not need to pay social security contributions.

Once registered, you will need to send the supporting documents requested in order to receive your social security number.
Teaching and Assessment in France

Course organisation

Cours magistraux (CM) are large, lecture-style courses which happen in “amphi” (lecture hall)

Travaux dirigés and travaux pratiques (TD or TP) are smaller group sessions (seminars) which put into practice the ideas and principles taught in the CM

Homework:
More contact hours and less personal work comparing to some foreign universities. Homework can be graded by teachers, do not forget to do it!

Undergraduate students:

Courses are organized in “tracks” : Full English, Mixed and Parcours Français.

For each of these tracks, you have to take the required courses and you can then add other courses from the list of optional courses to get the desired amount of credits ECTS.

Graduate students:

Within a master program, courses are organized in “UE” (Unité d’Enseignement – Teaching Units). Credits are awarded for each UE (and not each course), but you need to pass all the courses to get the UE credits.
Grading System and Assessment

Two types of assessment:

- Continuous assessment -- based on participation, homework assignments, group work, etc. -- which allows the professor to evaluate the student’s work throughout the term.

- Exams -- organized during the exam period at the end of each semester. The exams allow the professor to evaluate the entirety of your work for the term.

Please note that the exam structure at IAE is very strict. You will receive more details towards the end of the semester on how to prepare for an exam and the exam itself.

You should enquire with the teacher what assessment it is (continuous assessment or exam) and if the exam takes place before or after Christmas.

You pass a course and get the associated credits ECTS if you have at least 10/20 (continuous assessment and examination grades combined).

Examination

Each semester, exams are held in two sessions:

❖ First session (Session 1)
For all the courses you have taken during the semester. For Semester 1 (Fall) exams will be held early/mid-January (with some early exam in December before the Christmas break). For Semester 2 (Spring) exams will be held in early/mid-April.

❖ Second Session (Session 2)
Also called “make-up session”, it is organized to allow students who did not pass the exams from the Session 1 (meaning you obtained less than 10/20 or you were absent for the exam) to take a make-up exam. The organization of the Session 2 depends on how many students need to retake the exam for a course. Teachers can decide on the type of make-up exams (written, oral or a dossier to hand in). Be aware that make-up exams can be held a couple of months after the initial exam.

Important instructions

1. You have to present yourself 30 minutes before the exam starts (or 15 minutes if you have two exams one after the other).

2. You MUST have your student card. If you do not: a valid ID (ie. Passport) will be accepted. Any other type of card with your photo on it such as the European healthcare card or any public transports card will not be considered valid.

3. Late students WILL NOT BE ADMITTED into the exam room. Access to the exam room is not allowed after the envelopes containing the subjects have been opened.

4. Personal belongings e.g. coats, jackets, electronic equipment (including phones and smart watches), bags, books, papers, briefcases and cases must be left at the front/back or sides of the examination room (near the examination supervisor). No coats or jackets are permitted on the back of chairs.

5. Students must not communicate with other students either by word or sign, nor let their papers be seen by any other student.

6. Cheating is an extremely serious offence, and any student found by the University to have cheated or attempted to cheat in an examination may be deemed to have failed that examination or the entire diet of examinations, or be subject to such penalty as the University considers appropriate.
Plagiarizing is cheating!

The term plagiarism is used when a person appropriates thoughts or ideas of another person without indicating their paternity. All academic work is based on previous work and it is normal to draw inspiration from it or to use it to justify one's reasoning. But attributing yourself the work of others, whether whole or partial and in whatever form, is illegal and constitutes an infringement sanctioned by articles L. 335-2 et seq. of the intellectual property code.

The English translation of the French intellectual property code is available following this link: https://www.legifrance.gouv.fr/content/location/1742

To avoid plagiarism and know how to cite on your documents, please ask the Grenoble IAE’s librarian team or your teachers. They will be glad to help you!
Compulsory attendance

Attendance is compulsory for the classes, whether they are lectures or seminars. Attendance is checked by signing the attendance sheet or the teacher doing a roll-call at the beginning of the class.

If you have 2 unjustified absences for a course, you are at risk of being awarded the grade of 0/20 for the continuous assessment for this course.

Where to eat

Eating a balanced diet during your studies is vital! Whether it is in the IAE building, on the campus or downtown, you have plenty of options to enjoy your lunch.

- CROUS Restaurants: Dotted across the Grenoble campus, the university restaurants and cafeterias managed by the CROUS Grenoble Alpes serve proper, varied meals to suit all budgets. There are two CROUS restaurants on the UGA campus: The Barnave Restaurant and the Intermezzo Restaurant and Cafeteria. Please refer to the map to see their location. Do not forget to use your Izly card to pay for your meals.

- The K’fête: Located in the IAE building, this cafeteria offers sandwiches, snacks and drinks at affordable prices.

- Other lunch spots on the campus: Near the tram station “Bibliothèques Universitaires”, several places offer sandwiches, pizzas, drinks and hot meals.

- If you want more options, don’t forget that it only takes around 10 minutes by tramway to get to the city center, where there are a lot of bakeries, restaurants and places to eat!
Leisure and culture

Sport

On the UGA campus you can practice a wide variety of sports, such as rowing, dancing and swimming (there is a swimming pool on the campus!). You can choose whether or not you want to get a grade for these activities. Please refer to the SUAPS for more details. (https://suaps.univ-grenoble-alpes.fr/fr/)

No other university can boast of the close proximity of three massive mountain ranges and natural parks (the Belledonne, Chartreuse and the Vercors) and the proximity of the highest mountain peaks in the western Alps (Mont Blanc, the Vanoise range and the Ecrins). This remarkable location is unique and this means that mountain sports and winter sports play a very special role in the life of many students and staff at Université de Grenoble. You should take advantage of this!

There are 16 ski stations near Grenoble (from 30 minutes to 2 hours away by car). You can get there by car, by taxi but also by bus! For example, Skiligne is a combined offer enabling you to enjoy your favourite resort for the day. It includes the return coach journey + 1 alpine ski pass for one of the six following resorts: Les 2 Alpes, L'Alpe d'Huez, Chamrousse, Les 7 Laux, Villard de Lans COTE 2000 and L'Alpe du Grand Serre. For further information, please visit http://www.transaltitude.fr/en/skiligne/

- 2,870 students have participated in club sport for their personal training.
